Course Description & Objectives

This course provides an introduction and understanding of the value and uses of information systems for business operation and managerial decision-making. It concentrates on providing an understanding of the tools and terminology needed to understand information systems and their role in the business environment. Topics include information systems concepts, a review of information technology concepts, the fundamentals of e-business, planning and development of information systems, and the implementation and management of these systems.

By the end of this course, students should:

- Recognize and evaluate the strategic implications and applications of information systems for business organizations;
- Develop a holistic view of information systems by applying a system's approach and by generating an understanding of general systems concepts as a means of identifying the information needs for a business organization;
- Understand the need for a planned organizational information technology infrastructure and be familiar with alternative network, data, applications, and management and control architectures for providing this infrastructure.
- Discuss MIS concepts and identify techniques which can be used in the planning, developing and controlling of an organization's information system;
- Demonstrate a sound understanding of basic information technology topics (hardware devices, data, software, etc.);
- Explain how functional area information systems can be used to support business decisions and productivity at all levels of the organization.

Course Text & Materials

Information Systems: A Manager's Guide to Harnessing Technology, v. 1.3. FlatWorld Knowledge (<http://www.flatworldknowledge.com>)

Our text is a free online text, which can be found at the following site:

<http://students.flatworldknowledge.com/course/951527>

In addition to readings, audio-visual presentations and guest speakers may also be used occasionally to supplement lectures and course materials.

Course Requirements & Evaluation

Course grading and evaluation will be conducted according to the following:

Class and online participation	10%
5 in term assignments	20%
Midterm	20%
Presentation/Paper	25%
Final	25%

Online and Class Participation:

Another component of your grade is participation during class time. Students are expected to attend all classes, having prepared for class by reading the assigned text chapters ahead of time, and actively participating in group discussions. Additionally, students are to participate in online discussion forums on topics directly and indirectly pertaining to the textbook. If external circumstances or illness prevent you from attending or adequately preparing for a class or online participation opportunities, please let the professor know so that this can be taken into account, as repeated absences from class will negatively impact a student's individual participation grade.

Grading

The available letters for course grades are as follows:

% Grade	Letter Grade	Description

All hand-in assignments and quizzes must include the student's name and ID number. For all citations, please use APA citation style. Check our Moodle course for links to examples of this citation style. Please note that final grades will be available on your student portal.

Important Dates for Registration, Withdrawal, and Course Auditing

September 16th, 2012, is the last day to enter a course without permission or to withdraw from a course without incurring a financial penalty in terms of tuition refund.

November 12th, 2012, is the last day to voluntarily withdraw from a course or change to audit without academic penalty.

Course withdrawal forms are available from the Registrar. Students who do not follow the proper withdrawal procedures will be recorded as having failed the course.

In-class Use of Electronic Devices

The use of personal electronic devices by students in-class is purely at the discretion of the instructor. The use of music players, earphones, cell phones, PDAs, or any other personal entertainment devices will not be allowed in-class at any time. Typically, laptop or notebook computers may be utilized only for taking notes or reviewing course materials if necessary. However, if laptop use becomes a distraction for other students in the class, or is used for activities that are not class-related (i.e. Internet browsing, playing games, watching videos, emailing, chatting, etc.), the instructor will ask the student to stop using the laptop and put it away, and make a deduction to the student's course participation grade – 20% deduction for first instances; additional 40% deduction and loss of laptop use for the remainder of the semester for any repeat instances.

Audio or video recording of class lectures is strictly prohibited without the prior expressed consent of the instructor.

Important Notes

Students are advised to retain this syllabus for their records. It is the responsibility of all students to become familiar with and adhere to academic policies as stated in the Student Handbook and Academic Calendar. Personal information, that is information about an individual that may be used to identify that individual, may be collected as a requirement as part of taking this class. Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@ambrose.edu.

Although extensions to coursework in the semester are at the discretion of the instructor, students may not turn in coursework for evaluation after the last day of the scheduled final examination period unless they have received permission for a "Course Extension" from the Registrar's Office. Requests for course extensions or alternative examination time must be submitted to the Registrar's Office by the appropriate deadline (as listed in the Academic Calendar <http://www.ambrose.edu/publications/academiccalendar>). Course extensions are only granted for serious issues that arise "due to circumstances beyond the student's control."

Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University College as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to give credit to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from Ambrose. Students are expected to be familiar with the policy statements in the current academic calendar and the student handbook that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record.

Course changes, including adding or dropping a course, may be made during the Registration Revision period, as outlined in the Calendar of Events. All course changes must be recorded on a Registration form, available from the Office of the Registrar. Due to circumstances such as class size, prerequisites or academic policy, the submission of a Registration form does not guarantee that a course will be added or removed from a student's registration. Students may change the designation of any class from credit to audit up to the date specified in the Calendar of Events, although students are not entitled to a tuition adjustment or refund after the Registration Revision period.

Withdrawal from courses after the Registration Revision period will not be eligible for tuition refund. Students intending to withdraw from some or all of their courses must submit a completed Registration form to the Registrar's office. The dates by which students may voluntarily withdraw from a course without penalty are listed in the Calendar of Events. A grade of 'W' will be recorded on the student's transcript for any withdrawals from courses made after the end of the Registration Revision period and before the Withdrawal Deadline (also listed in the Calendar of Events). 'W' grades are not included in grade point average calculations. A limit on the number of courses from which Academic a student is permitted to withdraw may be imposed. Students wishing to withdraw from a course, but who fail to do so by the applicable date, will receive the grade earned in accordance with the course syllabus. A student obliged to withdraw from a course after the Withdrawal Deadline because of health or other reasons may apply to the Registrar for special consideration.

An appeal for change of grade on any course work must be made to the course instructor within one week of receiving notification of the grade. An appeal for change of final grade must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar in writing within 30 days of receiving notification of the final grade, providing the basis for appeal. A review fee of $50.00 must accompany the appeal to review final grades. If the appeal is sustained, the fee will be refunded.
