Course Description

This is a denominational history course. Its task is to orient people training for vocational ministry within the Alliance and interested lay people to the spiritual, theological, and pastoral resources of the denominational heritage. To bring life to denominational history the course employs a concept of "living tradition" as the mode of both appropriating and critiquing this heritage.

When understood as a living tradition, Alliance history and thought is meant to be more than something old and irrelevant to be read about in a textbook. The course is to inform an Alliance sense of identity, to ground teaching and worship, and to find its way into lived commitments. Alliance identity is shaped by a tradition, expressed by Albert B. Simpson as the Fourfold Gospel, which has continually witnessed to the fact that Christ's work has present as well as future implications. It calls adherents to and empowers them for holiness, it affirms God's interest in the physical as well as the spiritual, and it points forward to hope in the coming of Christ's Kingdom.

Course Objectives

1. Students will be able to explain selected historical themes affecting the Christian and Missionary Alliance from the late nineteenth century to the present.
2. Students will have an interpretive grid for analysing the history of the Christian and Missionary Alliance through its central continuities and changes.
3. Students will be able to identify the Alliance distinctives which have shaped its historical and doctrinal experience. Particular attention will be paid to sanctification, healing, eschatology, and missions.
4. Students will have a broadened understanding of the work of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Canada and throughout the world.

Course Requirements

1. Each student is expected to be prepared for and to participate in each class session. This is reflected in the proportion of the final mark assigned to participation. Some students will be asked to present an informal summary to the class of one of the required readings.
2. A list of completed required reading will be submitted to the instructor.
3. Each student will write a critical book review which integrates a discussion of the four books listed above. Your review is to evaluate the degree to which 1) each book makes a contribution to Alliance thought and 2) together constitute a recognizable theological tradition. Your analysis will be significantly strengthened by reference to materials discussed in class and referenced in the bibliography which accompanies this syllabus. The review is to be no longer than 10 pages (approx. 2500 words).
4. Lindsay Reynolds outlines the history of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the twentieth century in Rebirth. Use the interpretive grid for Alliance history presented on the final day of class to critically analyse Reynold's book. Assess the degree to which the tensions identified in the lecture are supported by the history of the Alliance in Canada and assess the degree to which this interpretative

- grid was helpful in identifying central themes in the narrative. This review should be no longer than 5 pages (approx. 1250 words).
5. The research papers are meant to explore new areas of Alliance history. It is suggested that this paper focus on a local church history, either of the church you now attend or one you have been associated with in the past. Papers will be no longer than 10 pages (approx. 2500 words) and should involve primary research.

Due Dates

All assignments are due July 16, 2004.

Course Grade

2. Reading report	10%
3. Critical book review	25%
4. Review of Rebirth	15%
5. Local church history research paper	40%
	100%

Extension Education Policy and Procedures

Submission of Assignments & Exams:

Students must submit their completed assignments (and exams, if applicable) to the Extension Education office. The administrative assistant will note the date received and forward assignments to the respective instructors once the due date has passed.

Returning Assignments to Students:

The procedure for returning assignments is as follows:
 Instructors will return graded assignments to the Extension Education office.
 Students who will be on-campus at the time that graded assignments are returned will have those assignments delivered via the on-campus mail system.
 Other students, including those who have registered only for modular courses, and those who do not plan to return the following semester, must submit a self-addressed, stamped envelope (of sufficient size and postage), along with their completed assignments, to the Extension Education office.
 Papers that are unclaimed and/or undeliverable will be held for one year from the due date, then destroyed.
