Textbooks:

Greidanus, Sydney (1988). The modern preaching and the ancient text: Interpreting and preaching biblical literature. Grand Rapids: MI: William B. Eerdmans Publishing.

Edwards, K. (2009). Deep Preaching: Creating sermons that go beyond the superficial. Nashville, TN: B & H Publishing Group.

Students will also interact with preaching in an audio and manuscript form throughout this course – with discussion and analysis during class sessions.

A Reader will also be provided with a selection of key articles on the work and art of interpreting scripture as it relates interpretation work for preaching and teaching. This Reader will add to the overall reading load so as to reflect the requirements for a graduate level course.

Course Description:

This course seeks to train students in the methods of exegesis of the various genres of the Bible for the purpose of preaching and teaching. Students will develop an intimacy with the core concepts of interpretation and test their skills in the preparation of portions of scripture for these purposes.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

- Nurturing Theological Depth – To understand the doctrine of revelation and to also explore the science and art of interpretation.
- Fostering Vocational Effectiveness - To practice a process of preparation that will inform and guide future practice / To provide concepts and skills that will form the basis for future courses in preaching and teaching.
- Cultivating Heart - To so immerse your life in three specific texts of scripture that your heart and life are challenged and hopefully transformed.
- Inspiring Redemptive Action - To emerge from this course with greater humility AND confidence regarding the task of handling and then communicating the truth of scripture

Rubric for Grading: Epistle and Gospel Projects– 25 Credits Per Project – Due Dec 12

The OT Narrative Project is based on the use of only 7 lenses – scoring rubric is shown in red for this project.

Project is completed as required in the assignment- All lenses addressed and engaged with at one of the following levels:	The story is comprehensive . The project is thorough and evidences deep wrestling with the text 20 credits 10 credits (OT)	The project is completed in such a way that it is good . Time has been taken with each lens and addressed in a clear and concise manner 18-19 credits 8-9 credits (OT)	The project is completed adequately . We can get a general sense of this text but the focus could have been sharper on a number of fronts 15-17 credits 5-7 credits (OT)	The project is lacking in depth and breadth and is inadequate . Sorry, not quite sure I can grasp the full richness of this text through your work . . . <15 credits <5 credits (OT)
Quality of writing	Quality is at the level expected of a graduate student. Thoughts are well framed and consistent. 5 credits 5 credits (OT)	Quality is approaching the level expected of a graduate student. 4 credits 4 credits (OT)	The message has been communicated but the quality of writing is not at the level expected of a graduate student. 3 credits 3 credits (OT)	The quality of writing makes the message difficult to interpret. 2 or less credits 2 or less credits (OT)

Rubric for Grading: Top 10 Lessons – 10 Credits – Due December 5

This paper is to be a simple declaration of the top ten lessons you have gleaned from this course. There may be many more things you learn from this journey but I want you to capture your top ten. This can be in a single spaced format and can follow a simple numbered sequence with one paragraph dedicated to each lesson. What is the lesson learned?

Why is this important? One scriptural example or passage that applies this lesson.

15 Credits for a thorough yet succinct treatment of the two questions above and the example

12-14 Credits for an adequate coverage of the questions and example

11 or below for a fair coverage of the questions and less than stellar examples for each lesson.

Submission Requirements

All work must be submitted in 12 point word-processed form, double spaced between lines. Graphics or embellishments are not acceptable unless the syllabus instructions call for creative formatting. Cover sheets featuring the student's name, the name of the paper, date of submission, course name and number and the instructor's name are required. Footnotes must be used wherever and as often as any secondary sources are used. Wherever footnotes are used they must conform to seminary academic requirements. Students may choose to include handwritten work along with and in addition to final word-processed work if they so desire.

All assignments are to be turned into the professor via Moodle on the due date. Submission of hard copy work is also permitted but must be turned in class at the due date. Papers will be returned via Moodle or email or through on campus mail if a mail box number is included in the right hand corner of the cover page of the paper.

Late Submission of Work

All papers and assignments have set due dates. If work is submitted past the due date there will be a late submission penalty of one point for every two days that pass beyond the due date. So a paper worth 25 points of your final grade will lose one point every two days that go by beyond the due date. If you score an 22/25 on your paper and you are six days late, your score will be reduced by three points to 19/25. Don't be late!!

Attendance:

The nature of the class is such that attendance is mandatory at all classes. Students will interact with the instructor, the material, and with fellow classmates weekly – and this interaction is crucial to the design of this course. If an absence is required please communicate with the professor via email.

Grade Summary:

The available letters for course grades are as follows:

Percentage Equivalent Table:

Letter Grade	Description	% Equivalent
A+		97-100
A	Excellent	94-96
A-		90-93
B+	Good	87-89
B		84-86
B-		80-83
C+	Satisfactory	77-79
C		74-76
C-		70-73
D+	Poor	67-69
D	Minimal Pass	60-66
F	Failure	0-59

Because of the nature of the Alpha 4.00 system, there can be no uniform College-wide conversion scale. The relationship between raw scores (e.g. percentages) and the resultant letter grade will depend on the nature of the course and the instructor's assessment of the level of each class, compared to similar classes taught previously.

Please note that final grades will be available on student registration system. Printed grade sheets are not mailed out.

The Big Questions of This Course:

1. How do we achieve the right balance in a message – establishing understanding and eliciting action?
2. How do I sharpen my skills in the work of interpreting scripture faithfully?
3. How can I best convey to a congregation my sincere love and hope for them in Jesus Christ?
4. What is the essence of exegetical insight?
5. How do I cross the bridge from the text to real daily examples? What do we do when we struggle to find life experiences tied to the passage we are teaching or preaching?
6. How can I best learn to exegete scripture without retreating to a purely scholastic perspective?
7. What methods or practices will help me to keep God central in my study?
8. How do we get to the best interpretation of scripture? How do we get to an accurate base line for a text?
9. How do I best prepare to preach or teach so that it will result in life transformation?
10. How do I so interpret that it is understandable – taking a passage that is difficult and moving it into something that is easier to understand?
11. Have I learned enough from this course to make me “dangerous” as a teacher of God’s Word?

Our Most Challenging Areas: Surfaced in previous classes in PR601

1. Have I done justice to this passage? When is enough research enough?
2. Grasping the techniques and skills to interpret correctly
3. To understand correctly the meaning and intent of scripture within its own context of time and space and to distinguish the various genres and to then treat them appropriately.
4. Allowing the Word to penetrate my own heart rather than preparing for the sake of others and missing the need for the Word of God to go deep into me
5. Trusting that I can find valuable insights in my own research and analysis
6. The conflict between what has been said by others and experiencing a different perspective
7. The meaning / significance of the words in the original text, particularly when they are difficult to understand and apply (like OT passages that read like “hate passages”)
8. How much time should I spend on preparing a sermon?
9. I do acknowledge – I have preferred readings of scripture – How do I handle my biases?

This is a sampling of texts that address the interpretation process – by no means exhaustive. The course on Advanced Hermeneutics deals with the classic works on the art and science of interpretation.

Policies:

Communication

All students have received an Ambrose e-mail account upon registration. It is the student's responsibility to check this account regularly as the Ambrose email system will be the professor's instrument for notifying students of important matters (cancelled class sessions, extensions, requested appointments, etc.) between class sessions. If students do not wish to use their Ambrose accounts, they will need to forward all messages from the Ambrose account to another personal account.

Registration

During the Registration Revision Period students may enter a course without permission, change the designation of any class from credit to audit and /or voluntary withdraw from a course without financial or academic penalty or record. Courses should be added or dropped on the student portal by the deadline date; please consult the List of Important Dates. After that date, the original status remains and the student is responsible for related fees.

Students intending to withdraw from a course after the Registration Revision Period must apply to the Office of the Registrar by submitting a "Request to Withdraw from a Course" form or by sending an email to the Registrar's Office by the Withdrawal Deadline; please consult the List of Important Dates on the my.ambrose.edu website. Students will not receive a tuition refund for courses from which they withdraw after the Registration Revision period. A grade of "W" will appear on their transcript.

Exam Scheduling

Students wishing to withdraw from a course, but who fail to do so by the applicable date, will receive the grade earned in accordance with the course syllabus. A student obliged to withdraw from a course after the Withdrawal Deadline because of health or other reasons may apply to the Registrar for special consideration.

Students, who find a conflict in their exam schedule must submit a Revised Examination Request form to the Registrar's Office by the deadline date; please consult the List of Important Dates. Requests will be considered for the following reasons only: 1) the scheduled final examination slot conflicts with another exam; 2) the student has three final exams within three consecutive exam time blocks; 3) the scheduled final exam slot conflicts with an exam at another institution; 4) extenuating circumstances. Travel is not considered a valid excuse for re-scheduling or missing a final exam.

Electronic Etiquette

Students are expected to treat their instructor, guest speakers, and fellow students with respect. It is disruptive to the learning goals of a course or seminar and disrespectful to fellow students and the instructor to use electronics for purposes unrelated to the course during a class session. Turn off all cell phones and other electronic devices during class. Laptops should be used for class-related purposes only. Do not use iPods, MP3 players, or headphones. Do not text, read, or send personal emails, go on Facebook or other social networks, search the internet, or play computer games during class. Some professors will not allow the use of any electronic devices in class. The professor has the right to disallow the student to use a laptop in future lectures and/or to ask a student to withdraw from the session if s/he does not comply with this policy. Repeat offenders will be directed to the Dean. If you are expecting communication due to an emergency, please speak with the professor before the class begins.

Academic Policies

It is the responsibility of all students to become familiar with and adhere to academic policies as stated in the Academic Calendar. Personal information (information about an individual that may be used to identify that individual) may be required as part of taking this class. Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@ambrose.edu.

Extensions

Although extensions to coursework in the semester are at the discretion of the instructor, students may not turn in coursework for evaluation after the last day of the scheduled final examination period unless they have received permission for a course Extension from the Registrar's Office. Requests for course extensions or alternative examination time must be submitted to the Registrar's Office by the deadline date; please consult the List of Important Dates. Course extensions are only granted for serious issues that arise "due to circumstances beyond the student's control."

Appeal of Grade

An appeal for change of grade on any course work must be made to the course instructor within one week of receiving notification of the grade. An appeal for change of final grade must be submitted to the Registrar's Office in writing and providing the basis for appeal within 30 days of receiving notification of the final grade, providing the basis for appeal. A review fee of $50.00 must accompany the appeal. If the appeal is sustained, the fee will be refunded.

Academic Integrity

We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to acknowledge to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university college. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record.

Note: Students are strongly advised to retain this syllabus for their records.
