Course Description

This course studies thoroughly Shakespeare's drama: the tragedy, romance, comedy, historical play, and problem play. Shakespeare's works are placed in the context of the history and culture of the Elizabethan era.

Learning Outcomes

Diligent students of the course will:

- gain a broad knowledge of the dramatic works of William Shakespeare, along with the political, historical, and philosophical background of those works;
- understand Shakespeare's use of rhetorical, dramatic, and literary conventions;
- consider the complexity of Shakespeare's use of Christian theology and Scripture, and compare it with their contemporary understanding of these things.

Textbooks

Shakespeare, William. The Norton Shakespeare: Essential Plays / The Sonnets. 3rd ed. Edited by Stephen Greenblatt et al. Norton, 2015. ISBN 9780393938630.

(Other print editions of Shakespeare's plays are permissible, though you will likely encounter lineation and scene divisions inconsistent with the Norton text that may prove frustrating. Digital editions are not permitted.)

*Additional shorter required texts are indicated on the course schedule and are posted to Moodle. Print a copy, read it, mark it up, and bring it to class on the dates specified.

Requirements

Class sessions

- Class sessions will largely be devoted to considering the assigned readings. Therefore:
 - Read all assigned texts before the class for which they are assigned.
 - Always bring the relevant texts to class.
- Any additional short texts introduced in class will be made available on Moodle.
- In addition to the assigned readings, you are responsible for the content of all lectures on these readings, including their historical and literary backgrounds. In other words, attend class.

Assignments

- All assignments are due at the time specified on the course schedule.
- Assignments are to be submitted in several different forms: consult assignment sheets for details.
- Late Assignments:
 - The penalty for late assignments is one refined letter grade per class day (Tues.-Fri.) late. Late assignments may also be graded and returned later than on-time submissions.
 - Extensions may be granted on written assignments in extraordinary circumstances, but they must be requested in advance. Plan ahead: busyness is not an extraordinary circumstance.
- All assignments must be submitted to be eligible for a passing final grade.

Attendance

- Because learning how to read literature and write essays is not simply a matter of memorizing facts from Powerpoint slides, class attendance is mandatory. Attendance will be taken daily and will affect your participation grade.
- Any student who misses more than 8 class sessions (1/3 of the course) without legitimate excuse will automatically fail the course. Students are responsible to report legitimate absences to the professor.

Communication

- I will use a combination of Moodle announcements and direct email messages to communicate with you about the course, and I will assume that you are receiving these messages. Therefore, check your Ambrose email regularly.
- I will do my best to reply to your emails promptly. However, I do not typically check email on weekends or after 6:00 pm on weekdays.
- Read the syllabus and relevant assignment sheets before emailing me with a question.

Evaluation

Participation & Reading Quizzes – 10%

This is a senior English course. As such, it requires active, thoughtful participation from each member.

- Look alert, ask questions, share your thoughts, and visit my office to discuss readings and assignments.
- It goes without saying that doing all of this necessitates regular attendance: skip classes and your grade will suffer.
- Moreover, intelligent participation also requires thorough and careful reading of the assigned texts. To encourage this, I will randomly inflict short reading quizzes at the beginning of class.

Explication Paper – 15%

Write a 1250-word analysis of the literary language and techniques of an assigned play passage. You must meet with me to discuss your primary lines of argument prior to submitting the essay. Due March 19.

Group Performance Workshop – 20%

We are studying play scripts, which were originally blueprints for performance. This project is meant to illuminate the process of moving a play from the page to the stage. Each group will prepare and act out a scene from your assigned play, then give a presentation on the significance of and rationale for the various dramatic choices they made. Not everyone in the group must act, but everyone must be involved in the “production” of your scene in some way (whether as director, actor, or stage manager). February 6, 15, and March 7

Research Paper – 35%

Write a 3000-word research paper on an important topic in one or two of our assigned plays. You must submit your tentative thesis statement and list of secondary sources on April 4 (via email); the paper is due 9:00 am April 15.

Final Examination – 20%

The exam will be in-person and comprehensive of the entire course. It will include quotation identification, short literary analyses, and an essay or two. April 20.

Further directions for these assignments will be given well before they are due.

Classroom Etiquette

The university classroom is formal venue to which students and professor alike bring their best selves to the earnest discussion of serious ideas. To help you do that, observe the following guidelines:

- Address the professor by his title: “Professor” or “Dr Goossen.”
 - As an extension of the classroom, email communication should also be formal: don’t email like you text.
- Arrive on time. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of class.
- Do not talk compulsively. Be self-aware and leave space for others’ voices.
- Do not be silent. Speaking is a crucial aid to formulating your thoughts on a topic.
- Eating in a formal venue like a classroom is brutish; since university education is meant to humanize you, don’t do it. Unslurped beverages are fine.
- Texting or having your phone beep, ring, or rumble during class is not quite brutish (animals don’t use phones), but it is certainly crude. Since university education is meant not only to humanize but to civilize you, turn your phone off and put it away.
- Despite frothy claims to the contrary by scholars often addicted to it, technology does not usually aid learning. Therefore, students may not use any device more complex than pen and paper in our classroom. Contact the professor if you need special accommodation.

Because of the nature of the Alpha 4.00 system, there can be no uniform University-wide conversion scale. The relationship between raw scores (e.g. percentages) and the resultant letter grade will depend on the nature of the course and the instructor's assessment of the level of each class, compared to similar classes taught previously. Please note that final grades will be available on student registration system. Printed grade sheets are not mailed out.

Ambrose University Academic Policies

Registration

Registration is the process of selecting and enrolling in classes for upcoming semesters. Only students who are registered will be permitted to attend class and receive a grade for the course. You are responsible for ensuring that the courses you take are appropriate for your program, that they do not have any scheduling conflicts, that they have the necessary prerequisites and that they meet all degree requirements.

Withdrawal From a Course

Prior to the Add/Drop deadline: through the student registration system whereby course(s) will be removed with no academic or financial penalty. After the Add/Drop deadline and until the Withdrawal deadline: through submission of the 'Withdrawal from Course' form whereby course(s) will remain on the permanent academic record/transcript with the symbol 'W'. (See ambrose.edu/registrar/request-forms.) Students who withdraw from more than 30 credits attempted at Ambrose University will be required to withdraw from their program. Students considering withdrawing from courses are encouraged to discuss with their Faculty Advisor and/or the Office of the Registrar questions relating to their withdrawal decision specifically relating to financial assistance, study permit requirements, prerequisites for subsequent courses, readmission, and/or graduation timeline. Students who do not formally withdraw from a course are still considered registered in the course, even if they are no longer attending classes. In this case, students will be assigned a grade based on coursework completed as per the course syllabus and are responsible to pay the tuition and fees assessed for the course. Under extenuating circumstances, students may request from the Office of the Registrar a course(s) withdrawal after the Withdrawal deadline and until the last day of classes. Extenuating circumstances typically consider situations such as medical emergencies, compassionate grounds, or unforeseen conditions/situations beyond the students' control that arise after the start of the semester and are considered on a case-by-case basis. Supporting documentation from a physician or Registered Health Professional must accompany this request.

Coursework Extensions

Should a request for a time extension on coursework exceed the end of the term, a Coursework Extension Application must be completed and submitted to the Office of the Registrar. The extension (if granted) will be recorded on the student record. Extensions are granted at the discretion of the instructor and registrar. If granted, time extensions do not excuse you from a final examination where one has been scheduled for the course. More conditions apply.

Exam Scheduling

Students who find a conflict in their exam schedule must submit a Revised Final Exam Time Application to the Office of the Registrar by the deadline noted in the Academic Calendar. Requests will be considered for the following reasons only: 1) the scheduled final examination slot conflicts with another exam; or 2) the scheduled final examination slot results in three consecutive examination periods. Travel is not considered a valid excuse for re-scheduling or missing a final exam.

Communication

Your Ambrose email account is the University's primary and official mode of communication with you. Information delivered to your Ambrose email is considered official notification. Ambrose University is not responsible for your failure to receive important information delivered to your Ambrose email.

Lecture Recording

The recording of lectures or any other classroom academic activity, other than an audio recording as an accommodation, is prohibited except at the discretion of the instructor. Any use other than that agreed upon with the instructor constitutes academic misconduct and may result in suspension or expulsion. Permission to allow a lecture recording is not a transfer of any copyrights, so such recordings may be used only for individual or group study with other students enrolled in the same class and may not be reproduced, transferred, distributed or displayed in any public or commercial manner. Student must destroy recordings in any, and all formats at the end of the semester in which they are enrolled in the class. All students recording lectures, must sign the Permission Form to audio record lectures which is available through the Office of the Registrar.

Standards of Behaviour in the Classroom Setting

Learning is an active and interactive process, a joint venture between student and instructor and between student and student. Some topics covered within a class may lead to strong reactions and opinions. It is important that Students understand that they are entitled to hold contradictory beliefs and that they should be encouraged to engage with these topics in a critical manner. Committing to this type of "active learning" significantly increases the learning experience for both teacher and student, and reflects the Christian imperative to pursue truth, which lies at the heart of the Ambrose educational experience. However, active discussion of controversial topics will be undertaken with respect and empathy, which are the foundations of civil discourse in the Classroom Setting. Primary responsibility for managing the classroom rests with the instructor. The instructor may direct a student to leave the class if the student engages in any behaviour that disrupts the classroom setting. If necessary, Ambrose security will be contacted to escort the student from class.

Academic Integrity

We are committed to fostering personal integrity and will not overlook breaches of integrity such as plagiarism and cheating. Academic dishonesty is taken seriously at Ambrose University as it undermines our academic standards and affects the integrity of each member of our learning community. Any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means is academic dishonesty. Plagiarism involves presenting someone else's ideas, words, or work as one's own. Plagiarism is fraud and theft, but plagiarism can also occur by accident when a student fails or forgets to acknowledge to another person's ideas or words. Plagiarism and cheating can result in a failing grade for an assignment, for the course, or immediate dismissal from the university. Students are expected to be familiar with the policies in the current Academic Calendar that deal with plagiarism, cheating, and the penalties and procedures for dealing with these matters. All cases of academic dishonesty are reported to the Academic Dean and become part of the student's permanent record.

Academic Policies

It is the responsibility of all students to become familiar with and adhere to academic policies as stated in the Academic Calendar. The academic calendar can be found at <https://ambrose.edu/academics/academic-calendar>

Privacy

Personal information (information about an individual that may be used to identify that individual) may be required as part of taking this class. Any information collected will only be used and disclosed for the purpose for which the collection was intended. For further information contact the Privacy Compliance Officer at privacy@ambrose.edu.

Academic Success and Supports

Accessibility Services

Academic accommodation is provided to Ambrose students with disabilities in accordance with the Alberta Human Rights Act and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Provision of academic accommodation does not lower the academic standards of the university nor remove the need for evaluation and the need to meet essential learning outcomes. Reasonable accommodations are tailored to the individual student, are flexible, and are determined by considering the barriers within the unique environment of a postsecondary institution. It can take time to organize academic accommodations and funding for disability-related services. Students with a disability who wish to have an academic accommodation are encouraged to contact Accessibility Services as early as possible to ensure appropriate planning for any needs that may include accommodations. Staff can then meet with students to determine areas to facilitate success, and if accommodations are required, ensure those accommodations are put in place by working with faculty.
